

Botanical Research and its Applications

11th Congress of the Czech Botanical Society

8–10 October 2022

Prague

Preliminary registration and poster proposal

The Congress will take place in Prague in the second weekend of October, beginning on Saturday (8 October) morning with the registration of participants, opening ceremony and the first lectures. There will be a reception on Saturday evening. Sunday (9 October) will be devoted to scientific sessions based on invited lectures. Post-congress excursions will follow on Monday (10 October).

The programme of the Congress sessions will include invited lectures only, however participants are welcome to submit posters.

Please fill in the preliminary registration form below, even if you do not intend to present a poster. Final registration forms containing details on accommodation, meals and excursions will be sent out in March 2022. By that time the preliminary programme of the Congress will have been released. A detailed programme will be sent to all registered participants and published on the website of the Czech Botanical Society <https://botanospol.cz/en/congressCBS-2022>

Programme Committee: K. Prach, J. Danihelka, V. Grulich, H. Härtel, L. Hrouda, J. Chrtek, M. Chytrý, I. Jongepierová, Z. Kaplan, K. Kubát, P. Lustyk, P. Pyšek, M. Štefánek a M. Štech.

Programme blocks:

1. Botany and Nature Conservation (guarantor H. Härtel)
2. Botany and Ecological Restoration (guarantor K. Prach)
3. Invasions and Expansions of Plants and their Practical Consequences (guarantor P. Pyšek)

I intend to participate in the 11th Congress of the Czech Botanical Society (Prague, 8–10 October 2022)

First name and surname:

Address:

E-mail:

Preliminary title of the poster:

Please send this form and a brief abstract of your poster (if planned) by mail to: Czech Botanical Society, Benátská 2, 128 01 Praha 2, Czech Republic or by e-mail to sekretariat@botanospol.cz by 4 March 2022. Please do not format the abstract.